NEWS RELEASE March 5, 2014

In February 2014, the State College Police Department completed an extensive serial burglary investigation which included 24 forced entry burglaries occurring in the Borough of State College. As a result of the investigation Ryan Reichlin and Aaron Klinger were arrested and currently remain incarcerated in the Centre County Correctional Facility. The investigation revealed the majority of these forced entry burglaries occurred during breaks in the academic year, when a large number of student residents and non-student residents travel out of the area.

As spring break approaches, the State College Police Department would like to remind both student residents and non-student residents of the following safety tips to help reduce property loss and/or damage.

- SECURE YOUR RESIDENCE: Lock all of your doors and windows. Consider placing a bar or piece of wood on the track of a sliding glass door to assist with securing the door. Be sure to close all of the curtains and blinds in your apt. or residence.
- SECURE VALUABLE ITEMS: Take valuable items and small electronics with you if possible. If items must be left behind, do not leave them in plain view near windows or doors and place them where they are not easily accessible. Please record serial numbers and note if the item is able to be tracked using a GPS locator (activate GPS applications).
- SECURE YOUR VEHICLE(S): Remember to lock car doors, park in a well lit area or a secure facility and remove all valuables from vehicles, especially those in plain view (GPS units, small electronics such as iPods, MP3 players and currency including change).
- HOLD MAIL AND NEWSPAPERS: Have your mail held and postpone newspaper delivery. Don't make it obvious to others that you are away.
- HAVE A TRUSTED FRIEND/NEIGHBOR CHECK YOUR RESIDENCE: If your neighbor/friend is staying in the area while you're away, arrange to have them watch over the apt./residence from time to time and provide them with a contact number for you in the event of a problem.

- DON'T HIDE SPARE KEYS: Don't hide spare keys outside of your apt./residence.
- ENSURE SUFFICIENT LIGHTING: Make sure you have sufficient lighting around all of your doors, especially those not visible from the street. Buy a motion-sensitive light or a timer that automatically turns on exterior lights.

Additionally, the State College Police Department is requesting the public to continue to be vigilant and to report any and all suspicious activity to the police immediately. Some suspicious behavior or activity may include, but is not limited to the following:

- Unknown persons knocking on doors of houses or apartments for no apparent reason or knocking on doors of multiple houses or apartments;
- Occupied vehicles parked in alleyways or along the street for an extended period of time;
- Vehicles driving down a street or through a neighborhood slowly or driving down a street or through a neighborhood several times; or
- Persons inexplicably loitering in a residential area.
