MEDIA RELEASE

March 1, 2019

The State College Police Department is making improvements to its email and SMS notification subscription lists. After assessing the system, it was concluded that there are redundancies in the subscriptions lists. The web administrator will be combining the users that have signed up for police alerts into a single list. During this process you may get emails like the one listed below.

The police and State College Borough want to reassure users that they will still receive updates from the police department. The State College Police Department's primary means of releasing information to the public and media outlets are via Twitter @StateCollegePD and by registering for "Police Media Releases" at <http://www.statecollegepa.us/list.aspx>

Please note that this system is not an emergency alert system.
